Pastor's Corner

"An Eternal Epiphany"

"Pastor, what will heaven look like?" As a pastor, I have the pleasure of receiving many wonderful questions from people. Sometimes questions such as this may come from one of the 160 children who attend our pre-school at Zion. Other times, questions such as this may come from one of our more mature members as they contemplate finally receiving their blessed inheritance of eternal life. Regardless from whom the question originates, it is probably a question we have all contemplated out of faithful curiosity. What will heaven look like?

During our recent adult Bible study covering Revelation, questions like this popped up regularly. We discussed whether heaven would literally look like jasper and have 12 high walls (Revelation 21) or would heaven look more like the picture Jesus Himself painted of being filled with sheep and goats (Matthew 25:32). The Bible gives us many different images of what heaven will "look" like, and there lies the challenge. The Bible is not necessarily interested in sharing with us what color scheme will be used on the walls in heaven, or what shades of green the grass will look like. The Bible is not necessarily interested in sharing with us those images of heaven, but the Bible is very interested in showing you heaven. During this time of year especially, we can see heaven.

We are currently in the liturgical season of Epiphany. We will use the word "epiphany" in our everyday speech if we have a sudden flash of insight, or we see a solution to a problem. In worship, the word "epiphany" refers in some way to Jesus manifesting His divine nature in this world.

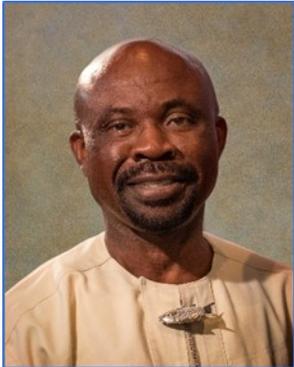

For as much as Jesus reveals about Himself isn't it interesting that we don't know what Jesus really looked like. The Bible doesn't spend time telling us the length of Jesus' hair, but it does spend time telling us God has numbered every hair of your head. The Bible does not tell us what Jesus' clothes looked like, but the Bible does take time to tell us we have been clothed in Christ. The Bible doesn't take the time to tell us what Jesus physically looked like, but it does take plenty of time showing us what our new life in Christ looks like. This takes us back to our original question, "Pastor, what does heaven look like?" I may not have a clue as to what heaven will physically look like, but I know without a shadow of a doubt WHO we will see in heaven when we open our eyes and look around. In closing, please pray the following passage which truly shows us exactly what, or better yet, "who" heaven will look like.

³And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, "Behold, the dwelling place of God is with man. He will dwell with them, and they will be his people, and God himself will be with them as their God. ⁴He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain anymore, for the former things have passed away."

— Revelation 21:3-4

Mission Moments

A prayer from Pastor Wokoma to the members of Zion ...

O Infant Son of Mary, be Thy own keynote in the life of all Thy children this year - 2019, so sweetly harmonizing thought and action that none who listen shall a discord here. O Master, by Thine own ... continue to send heavenly music over Africa through these my sponsors and supporters who sojourn with me. So True, so Beautiful, so soul-Refreshing, that those who hear it may learn and say, "Gloria in Excelsis Deo!" Amen!

From Zion Preschool ...

During Jesus Time, preschool teacher Mrs. Barb Oechslein was reading the Bible story about Queen Esther. Their letter of the week was "Q" for Queen. She was explaining what a Queen was and what she did... the Queen was in charge of her country.

When she asked the children if they knew who was in charge of our country, she expected to hear "The President". What a surprise when the children shouted out "God is in charge!" How right they are!

Our theme is: “Behold the man!”

Pilate’s command to the crowd at Jesus’ crucifixion speaks an incredible truth—Jesus was indeed man. More specifically, He was God and man, an eternal being inhabiting a human body.

Jesus had a body. He had a nose. Knees. Toes. Bones. Fingerprints. He hungered, prayed, and bled. He had a mother, He drank wine, He was baptized.

This Lenten season, behold the man—the man who suffered, died, and rose again. The man who lived a perfect life and defeated death. The man whose death led to your life.

Chairman's Corner

Hopefully, that groundhog won't disappoint us this year! Before long we'll be entering the Easter season and springtime. Try to stay tuned to our communications as we move forward into this coming year. Our next Voter's Meeting will be April 28th and by then, Easter will be over and summer will be coming fast. Time waits for no one.

Everyone of us has joined various organizations over the years. I sure have joined a lot of organizations with which I share professional, personal or other similar interests and opinions. One day I was attending a meeting of a rather large organization to which I belonged when the presiding president addressed the membership and asked us, "are you a member of this organization, or do you just 'belong'...?" I must admit I had to think about that for a moment. He went on to explain that a "member" was akin to your arm or leg, being a "member" of your body; a member was something that you really didn't want to be without and something like your legs, which you needed in order to walk. A "belonging", or something that "just belonged" to you wasn't quite as important. Your shoes are belongings. They're useful, but, when they're old and worn you throw them away and buy a new pair.

We're all members of this church and not just belongings. When someone asks you, "what church do you attend,?", do you reply, "I belong to Zion Lutheran Bridgeville," or, do you reply, "I'm a "member" of Zion Lutheran Bridgeville," instead? "Belong to" or "Member of?" There is a difference. It's part perception and part reality. Zion doesn't "own" you and Zion won't throw you away when you get old. Zion Bridgeville desires and needs "members", not "belongings."

Each of us has "many members", like our arms, legs, eyes, and ears are members of our bodies, with each providing a different function. Together, as a church body, we're all members of Zion Bridgeville. Romans 12:4-5 says it best: "For as in one body we have many members, and the members do not all have the same function, so we, though many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another." Hmmm, that last part is interesting, isn't it? We're "members one of another." We're one body in Christ as true believers. How can we "belong" to anything of this Earth? We're all "members" of the only Body that matters, and as such, we're "not our own, we're paid for with a price." (1Cor. 6:19-20, paraphrased). Nothing of Earth owns us. Our membership is special.

We celebrate that bond of membership and saving grace when Pastor serves up a wonderful feast each week at the Lord's table. It's nice to have all our members present to hear Good News boldly proclaimed in truth and purity. See you on Sunday to thankfully celebrate we're not like that lost pair of worn shoes!

In the Spotlight Kid's Praise

Twice a month all of the classes get together for Kid's Praise. Sometimes we meet in the classrooms, and sometimes we meet in the sanctuary when it's paired with Chapel. It's a time where we sing with music and movement to tunes like Shake Your Sillies Out, Mr. Sun and This Little Gospel Light Of Mine. I love leading this with the kids...it's my favorite thing to do with them! Enjoy the pictures! Tracey

"This little gospel light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine..."

We finish Kid's Praise with singing the prayer "God is so good, He's so good to me."

"Oh Mr. sun, sun, Mr. golden sun, please shine down on me" Always a favorite!

We always stretch before we start. Our songs have a lot of actions which require lots of energy!

Look who it is....Mr. Doug! Mr. Doug joins us in the morning for Kid's Praise. Mrs. Tevia joins us for Kid's Praise in the afternoon.

Here we are posing like a fountain as we sing "I've got joy like a fountain in my soul" from the song "Peace like a River"

We learn the sign language to "Jesus Loves Me". The children are showing where Jesus' hands were nailed to the cross.

"If you're happy and you know it, clap your hands....If you're happy and you know it, then your face will surely show it, if you're happy and you know it clap your hands!"

Welcome to our Newest Members

On Sunday, January 13th Jon and Connie Canale, and Roger Diederich became members of the Zion church family. If you haven't had an opportunity to meet them yet, be sure to welcome them into our fellowship!

Jon and Connie Canale have been married 38 years, the last 30 of which were spent in Sterling Heights, MI. They have two children: Erin who lives with her husband and daughter in Moon Township, and Mike who lives in Dallas with his wife, where they are expecting their first grandson. They were very active in their church, Holy Cross, in Warren, MI, and are looking forward to seeing which ministries they can do the Lord's work at Zion. They moved here to be near their daughter and enjoy watching their 1-year-old granddaughter grow in their retirement years.

Jon & Connie Canale

Roger Diederich

Roger Diederich comes to us from Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Huntington, WV. He and his wife, Joyce, have been married 38 years. They live in McDonald and enjoy being near their two grandchildren who live in the area. They recently moved to the area to be close to their daughter Emily and their two granddaughters, Zoe & Ava. Roger enjoys participating in choir and Bible study.

“Is church ever CANCELLED on Sundays because of snow?”

God willing . . . NO!

During the recent snowstorm many heard “Zion Lutheran’s” worship services were cancelled. You may not be aware, but in the Pittsburgh area there are 3 “Zion Lutheran Churches.” Always use your discretion when travelling to worship on Sundays, but it is our plan to have worship regardless of the weather!

SESSION EIGHT Takeaways: Mary and Martha – Surprised by God's Priorities

1. For believers in every era, only one thing is ultimately important: learning, knowing, understanding, and believing God's love for us in Jesus Christ.
2. For the benefit of His disciples then and now, Jesus resurrected Lazarus from the dead to demonstrate His power as the Son of God, "so that you may believe."
3. Mary was enraptured by God's Word not because she was morally superior to or more spiritual than her sister Martha, but rather-- when led by the Holy Spirit-- she appeared to see clearly the deep neediness in her own soul for the Good News of God's forgiveness and grace.
4. Jesus set a new standard of treatment for women by approving and encouraging their study of His message and mission.

SESSION NINE Takeaways: The Crippled Woman -- Surprised by God's Justice

1. The crippled woman's disability was wrongly believed to be punishment from God, but Jesus Himself stated "Satan bound her."
2. Jesus emphasizes that when someone has a problem and others can help, they are obligated to do so immediately—regardless of the letter of the Mosaic Law.
3. Jesus calls the crippled woman a "daughter of Abraham," clearly defining her value as a person of worth and dignity regardless of her disability.
4. We are all "disabled" by both original and actual sin.

What About...

Christian Families

Greetings to you in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. Christian families face enormous pressure in our world today. It is important that they have a good understanding of what God intends for the family and how they best can respond to the many challenges that confront them.

What does God say about families in His Word, the Bible?

In the beginning, God created men and women to live together with one another as husbands and wives, and through their marriages to bring children into the world. We read in Gen. 2:22-24: "The Lord God made a woman from the rib He had taken out of the man, and He brought her to the man. The man said, 'This is now bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called "women," for she was taken out of man.' For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and they will become one flesh." Our Lord Jesus Christ affirmed the divine institution of marriage during his earthly ministry (Matt.19:5)

Through the Apostle Paul, the Lord revealed that Christian husbands and wives are to love and serve one another, modeling before the world the love Christ has for His bride, the church. In Ephesians 5, St. Paul wrote: "Submit to one another out of reverence for Christ. Wives, submit to your husbands as to the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, His body, of which He is the Savior.

"Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit to their husbands in everything. Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave Himself up for her to make her holy... In this same way, husbands ought to love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself. After all, no one ever hated his own body, but he feeds and cares for it, just as Christ does the church—for we are members of His body.

"For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh.' This is a profound mystery— but I am talking about Christ and the church. However, each one of you also must love his wife as he loves himself, and the wife must respect her husband" (Eph.5:21-33).

In this powerful description of marriage, there is no room for husbands to "lord it over" their wives, nor for wives to disregard their husband's role of "headship" in the home.

The key is mutual submission to and love for one another, modeled after Christ's love for the church, and the church's submission to Christ her Lord.

Parents are to provide discipline to their children with love and compassion, doing what is best for their children. We read in Eph. 6:4 "Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead, bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord." And children are to honor and obey their parents, as the Lord commands, "Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right." 'Honor your father and your mother' - which is the first commandment with a promise—that it may go well with you and that you may enjoy long life on the earth" (Eph. 6:1-2).

What are some of the cultural trends impacting families?

As we review what the Bible has to say about families, we quickly realize how far many of our cultural trends are from God's will for families.

Christian families are bombarded by signals which contradict God's Word. Popular culture—through movies, music, magazines, books and especially television—inundates us with wrong messages. The signal is sent that a sexual relationship outside of marriage, or before marriage, is perfectly natural, or that even homosexual lifestyle is merely an alternative to "traditional" marriage. Children are led to believe that being disobedient and disrespectful to parents is normal, even amusing, or that the elderly are to be viewed as a burden, or subjects for humor. So much of popular culture appeals to humanity's most sinful inclinations, and encourages them in a barrage of images and words.

The pressure on our children—particularly our teenagers—to do whatever is necessary to be "popular" among their friends is sometimes difficult for parents to understand and appreciate. Our young people are often caught up in destructive lifestyles and behaviors, encouraged by popular music, which encourages rebelliousness and disdain for life and the dignity of their fellow human beings. As our teenagers grow older, they are given the impression that "living together" without marriage is perfectly acceptable. How tragic it is when their own families do nothing to resist this behavior!

What About...

Christian Families

Men in our culture are encouraged to indulge their lusts and selfish desires. So little respect or attention is given to the man who wishes to be a faithful husband or father. How many children today grow up without a loving and responsible father in the home? The horrendous consequences of this trend will only become greater as we move into the future.

Women too are pressured to take a dim view of what God has given them. They are pressured to view childbearing as less than fulfilling, something perhaps only to be tolerated, and not to be enjoyed as a gift from God. They too face temptations to disregard God's expectations for them when they are wives and mothers, or to view marriage as something to be abandoned when it becomes convenient for them.

Yes, we surely do recognize that popular cultural trends often convey messages totally contrary to our Lord's Word and His will for Christian families. This needs to be recognized and resisted.

What can a Christian family do to deal with the challenges of our day?

Openly facing the issues is the first step. Pretending that problems do not exist will certainly not help. Nor will it do for a family simply to hope that they will not be faced with problems. Ignoring reality will not make it go away.

It is crucial for Christian parents to spend both quality and quantity time with their children. Reading with their young children, discussing the questions they have and being there to support and encourage them is extremely important.

Husbands and wives need to take time out of busy and hectic schedules to simply talk to one another, discussing the needs they have and the problems they are experiencing, working together to grow in their love for one another, and for their children.

More importantly, Christians need to pray for the Lord's blessing on their marriages and families, asking God to forgive them for their sins and failures as parents and spouses, and then turning to the Lord's mercy through their Savior Jesus Christ.

Christian families need to make every-Sunday worship an absolute priority. As families are gathered by God around His Word and Sacraments, they receive forgiveness, life and salvation—the strength they need to cope with the challenges of daily life.

What role do daily devotions have in the life of the Christian family?

One of the most important things a family can do is spend time together in the Word of God.

Key ingredients for the family's devotional time are the Scriptures, the hymnal and the Small Catechism. These are excellent resources for meaningful time together in the Word of God.

Parents should begin reading and reciting the chief parts of the Small Catechism with their children when they are very young, helping them learn the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments and the Apostles' Creed, and then working on the explanations, building as time goes on.

Parents need to discuss their faith with their children, pray with them and encourage their children in love to do what is right, not hesitating to say "no" when necessary. And always, parents will want to be for their children a model of the Heavenly Father's love in Christ Jesus our Lord.

How can parents help their children resist temptations?

Parents often overlook the very important role they play simply by the way they themselves handle life. A parent can provide an important role model for his or her children.

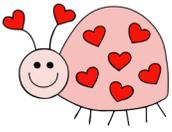

If a man constantly displays a harsh and fierce temper at home, uses foul language and acts disrespectfully towards his wife, it is little wonder why his son would grow up with similar attitudes and behaviors. If a woman constantly gripes and points out every fault, again, there is little surprise when her children do the same when they grow up.

Christian parents need to model the faith, both to their children and others around them. St. Paul wrote that a Christian marriage is to be an image of Christ's love for the church. This is both an awesome responsibility and a joyous privilege.

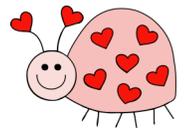

May God bless our families richly with His loving mercy, strengthening them as they seek to love one another and serve their Lord and Savior.
