Sharing of the Peace

So, if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, <sup>24</sup>leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

- Matthew 5:23-24

It happens every Sunday. Just before we distribute holy communion, we have the “sharing of the peace.” Pastor always says, “greet one another with the ‘peace of the Lord’” and then . . . OFF WE GO! Some kids may go running to give grandma a hug. Others may walk across the entire sanctuary to greet someone they haven’t met in a week. Others may have a different reaction. Some think to themselves, “here it comes the dreaded ‘sharing of the peace’ where I have to shake all these hands of people in the middle of flu season!” Others may choose to just stand in place, keeping their heads bowed while they wait for these uncomfortable 30 seconds to end.

Does this sound familiar to you in one way or another?

As with all things in worship, it can be easy for us to forget why we do what we do. Take a second and re-read the Bible passage above. Matthew 5 gives a reason WHY people went to greet others BEFORE going to the altar. What reason does Jesus give in Matthew 5?

Before going to the altar to receive the Lord’s Supper, we are to be reconciled with one another. This means old grudges with one another are to be verbally forgiven by each other. This happens during the sharing of the peace. If you have wronged someone in some way in word or deed, you are to go and ask for their forgiveness or give forgiveness before going to the Lord’s Supper. This happens during the sharing of the peace.

Being reconciled with one another does not mean you try and tally up every wrong committed against each other over the decades; that would be painfully impossible for any of us to do! As with the confession of sins though, it would be enough to confess those sins to each other which “we know and feel in our hearts.” Primarily, the “sharing of the peace” is to be a time of reconciliation with one another. If there is no reconciliation needed, then it is proper and appropriate to simply greet one another by saying “Peace be with you” or “the Peace of the Lord be with you” as we remind one another that we all fall under the cross of Christ’s mercy and come to the altar together as forgiven children of God. Truly, there is no greater peace for us to celebrate!

The peace of the Lord be with you always!

Mission Moments

(please note, the report below was sent prior to the start of Easter)

Dear Brethren

Entrance exams to the seminary for the 2019/2020 academic year were successfully conducted and concluded this past month (March) in between the Federal/State election periods. The candidates were able to travel back and forth safely. We are still dealing with limited accommodations, etc. due to the cut-off funding, and therefore the scores had to be much higher.

The Rev'd. Dr. John Nordling, the Greek professor from CTS, Ft. Wayne, IN, arrived to teach Greek intensives for five weeks to almost 80 students. In addition to this, he preached for mid-day chapel every day, and he taught three Exegetical Courses: Romans, Pastoral Epistles, and the Gospel of Matthew, all as intensives. He also preached some Sundays in the community. I doubt he has ever worked this hard before! We tried to milk all we could out of him since we are very short-handed. But does that mean I am relieved? Not quite. Two of the others slated to come as visiting professors this semester, that were supposed to have taken up five courses, are not able to make it due to lack of funding. As Lutherans we say, "What does this mean?" Answer: As usual, I have to carry more loads. I will have to teach the extra courses as intensives, which will translate into about ten courses total for this Semester that will end in June.

Snippets:

- LCN National Women's Rally is this month. It is an equivalent of an LWML convention but is held annually after Easter.
- Easter break is coming up. The students will be happy for a break after all of the intensives and regular classes.

Sincerely in-Christ,

Fr. Wokoma.

1 Tim 1:15.

Let's talk. Let's "communicate"...

Communication. How important is it? Do we always communicate effectively? How can we improve the channels of communication in our lives? How critically important is communication? Considering the Bible from which we derive our religious tenants and purpose, communication seems very important. God's "Word" inspired and written for us is certainly a supreme effort to provide us with the means to "hear" the messages He has for us. Our services and opportunities to study that Word, coupled with the spoken words from our Pastor, are all efforts to communicate religious messages. Our prayers of thanks, praise and any requests in prayer are ways in which we reach out in trust and faith to have our voices heard by the Lord.

Without effective communication I doubt any of us can optimize our potential with regard to a successful life or career in this world. In some respects, poor communication can lead to serious consequences depending upon the circumstances. Communication in productive discourse is a two-way street, otherwise, the communication can become dictatorial, one-sided and fall upon deaf ears. If people want to work well together to achieve common goals they need to be communicating well among themselves. Recall we're all "members" of this church and we're all on a Christian "mission" while also in fellowship with one another. What does that mean to you...?

Sometime this month, you will receive a survey consisting of some questions. Please help your leadership at Zion to hear your voice by answering and returning this survey as soon as possible. Hopefully, the Membership system is up-to-date enough to reach out to all our members. If you don't receive a survey by Memorial Day, please contact the church office so we can send you one.

Hopefully you all enjoyed the Lenten and Easter services. Here comes Pentecost and the Holy Spirit. Being baptized, the miracle of receiving the Holy Spirit as a gift is our blessing. Let's ask ourselves---having received such a wondrous gift, just what are we going to do with it? Is this "gift" meant to be hidden and put on a dusty shelf, or should we boldly proclaim it and share the Good News? If our assigned "mission" is to "minister" and fulfill the Great Commission, it's all about communicating the Word. How do you see that happening here at Zion? What part are you willing to play?

Zion Lutheran Preschool

It's so hard to believe, but another school year is coming to a close. As we prepare to finish out our last few weeks, we can't help but look back on our fantastic year and give thanks and praise to God for His many blessings.

Our enrollment for the 2018/2019 school year has been 161. Between the morning and afternoon sessions, we have had 10 classes. So far, for the 2019/2020 school year, we have a combined 11 classes with enrollment currently at 180 ... our maximum capacity is 183 ... we surely are busting at the seams!

We continue to add new programs each year. One that we are very excited about is the addition of STEM (science, technology, engineering and math), which Mrs. Barb Oechslein will be spear-heading. She will spend time in each PreK, PreK Plus and Stepping Stones class to introduce and teach this new curriculum. Summer Boost is another addition to our program starting this July. This program is for 5 weeks in July and meets on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. We will introduce/review letter sounds, word families, sight words, and writing uppercase and lowercase letters. We will also focus on math skills including sorting, counting, number recognition, addition, subtraction, and many other skills necessary for kindergarten. This program is for Zion's oldest students.

Please consider coming to see one of our end of year programs on May 20th, 21st or 22nd at 9:15 am. We will be singing many of the songs we sing during Kids Praise and conclude with a very sweet video presentation of the school year.

Thank you for all of your prayers, and see you in the Fall!

Blessings,

Tracey

Bethesda Celebrates 115th Anniversary

As we celebrate the 115th anniversary of Bethesda in 2019 and as Founder's Day approaches on April 13, we took a trip back to 1904 when Bethesda was created in Watertown, WI.

Bethesda looked like a very different place. Lutheran charity workers saw the need for an establishment to help children with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

Bethesda was born out of this necessity and was lovingly designed to help meet those needs and bring faith into the lives of the people within the home.

We sat down with Reuben Schmitz from Bethesda's Religious Life team and resident historian, for his take on Bethesda's interesting history and where it is today. Go to <https://www.bethesdalc.org/newsroom/115th-anniversary/> to read more about this.

Adult Stem Cells: The “Gold Standard”

– Despite scientists’ hype, disinformation and insistence about embryonic stem cell success in the early- to late-2000s, it turns out clinical advances are being made in the use of adult stem cells. David A. Prentice, a stem-cell researcher now with the Charlotte Lorzier Institute ... recently published a major peer-reviewed article in the science journal Circulation Research. He details the amazing successes of adult-stem-cell research. He outlines the many problems that make embryonic stem cells “ill-suited for clinical use” ... In contrast, ethical stem cells have had excellent successes. For example, “induced pluripotent stem cells,” which can be made from normal skin cells, are now used in cell modeling and drug testing ... From “Adult Stem Cells”: “Not only do adult stem cells carry no ethical baggage regarding their isolation, their practical advantages over pluripotent stem cells have led to many current clinical trials, as well as some therapies approved through all phases of Food and Drug Administration testing

... The superiority of adult stem cells in the clinic and the mounting evidence supporting their effectiveness in regeneration and repair make adult stem cells the gold standard of stem cells for patients. ## Speaking Up For Life

“When people question the value of a life lived with disability, I share God’s Word concerning the Body of Christ in 1 Corinthians 12:22 (NIV): ‘On the contrary, those parts of the body that seem to be weaker are indispensable.’ Note it does not say those that are weaker, but those that ‘seem to be weaker are indispensable!’” Mona Fuerstenau, director of Lutheran Ministry Partnerships, Bethesda Lutheran Communities

“When we see the unborn ... vulnerable, helpless, destined for destruction—we are compelled to speak and defend and help. And not because it is the right thing to do or the moral thing to do, but because it is the Christ thing to do. His hands that were pierced and His body that died and rose again were formed in a womb, giving value to all who have resided there.” Rev. Dr. James I. Lamb, former executive director of Lutherans For Life

What About...

Pastors

Why does God give us pastors?

When we look at our lives and measure them according to the holiness and righteousness of the Lord God Almighty we are moved to say, "Lord, have mercy on me, a sinner." We receive forgiveness of sins, and become righteous before God, by grace, for Christ's sake, through faith, when we believe that Christ lived, suffered, died and rose again for us, and that for His sake our sins are forgiven, and righteousness and eternal life are given to us. But how do we receive this faith? In order to obtain such faith, God instituted the ministry of teaching the Gospel and administering the Sacraments. It is through the Word and Sacraments that the Holy Spirit produces faith, where and when it pleases Him, in those who hear the good news of Jesus' death and resurrection for the forgiveness of sins. Pastors accompany us on our earthly pilgrimage. They serve us with Christ's Word and Sacraments, through which the Holy Spirit gives us forgiveness, life and salvation. Therefore, we believe, teach and confess that "when the called ministers of Christ deal with us by His divine command ...this is just as valid and certain, even in heaven, as if Christ our dear Lord dealt with us Himself" (Small Catechism).

How does God give us pastors?

The pastoral office is a gift that God has given to the church, as Paul says, "When he ascended on high he gave gifts to men" (Eph.4:8,11-12). Paul enumerates pastors and teachers among the gifts belonging to the church, and he adds that they are given for the work of ministry and for building up the body of Christ. Therefore, the right of electing and ordaining ministers is a duty and responsibility of the church. Through a congregation's call, God places a man to be the shepherd of that congregation. "Our churches teach that nobody shall publicly preach or teach or administer the sacraments without a regular call" (Augsburg Confession, Article XIV). Only those who are called and ordained to the pastoral office may exercise it publicly. Although the Holy Scriptures make it clear that all the baptized are priests, called to offer God sacrifices of thanks and praise (1 Peter 2:9; Rev. 1:6; 5:10), it also teaches that in the church there is an office to teach, feed, guide and rule, which Christians, by virtue of their general calling as Christians, do not possess (1 Cor. 12:29; Rom. 10:15; 1 Tim. 5:17; James 3:1).

While all Christians through Baptism are made part of God's royal priesthood, not all Christians are ministers. When a man receives and accepts his first call to serve as a pastor, he is then ordained.

Ordination is a confirmation of a man's call into the ministry of the church and is the historic and apostolic rite by which, through Word and prayer, a man is set apart for service to Christ and His church as a pastor. During his ordination, he is also installed into the pastoral office of the congregation that calls him. In the future, if he accepts other calls to serve, he will be installed, but not ordained again.

How are pastors described?

The word "pastor" comes from the Latin word for "shepherd." Shepherding is a predominant picture in the Bible for both the work of Christ and the work of our pastors (cf. Ps.23; Ezek.34; Eph.4:11; 1 Peter 5:2-3). The Scriptures indicate that the Holy Spirit appoints men to shepherd God's people (Acts 20:28).

Pastors are also referred to frequently in the Bible as "ministers," a word that literally means "slave" (Acts 26:16; Rom. 15:16; Eph.3:7; 1 Tim.4:6). In 2 Cor.4:5 Paul describes pastors this way: "We preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your slaves, for Jesus' sake." Pastors model their ministry on the life and work of the Lord Jesus Christ who did not come to be served, but to serve. The pastoral office is an office of loving, caring service to the people of God, in the stead and by the command of our Lord Jesus Christ. "Oversight" is another less frequently used term that describes the pastor's work. Pastoral oversight is the spiritual duty of rebuking and warning Christ's people when they fall into sin, feeding and caring for them with the Gospel, and guarding and defending them from false teachers and their false teachings. Pastoral oversight is not to be confused with institutional management or leadership, like a CEO type of position. Our Lutheran Confessions refer to the pastoral office as the "Preaching Office," to which men are called and ordained. We also speak of the office of the holy ministry. The ministry is holy not because of the men who are in it, but because of the One who established it. It is holy because of what the Lord is doing for His people through the work of His pastors.

What does God expect of pastors?

Pastors do not "represent their own persons but the person of Christ, because of the Church's call, as Christ testifies (Luke 10:16) 'He who hears you, hears me.' When they offer the Word of Christ or the sacraments, they do so in Christ's place and stead (Apology VII/VIII.28). The Apostle Paul writes in 1 Tim. 3:2-4 that a pastor is to be "above reproach, the husband of one wife, temperate, self-

What About...

Pastors

controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, not given to drunkenness, not violent, but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. He must manage his own family well and see that his children obey him with proper respect." In 1 Tim. 3:6 we read that a pastor is not to be "a recent convert, or he may become conceited and fall under the same judgment as the devil." In Titus 1:9 it is said that pastors "must hold firmly to the trustworthy message as it has been taught, so that he can encourage others by sound doctrine, and refute it." Although some Protestant churches ordain women to the pastoral office, this is a 20th-century innovation. For more than 1,900 years, there has been nearly unanimous faithfulness to the Word of God, given through the Apostle Paul, that women are not to serve as pastors (see 1 Cor. 14:33-35, 37; 1 Tim.2:11-12; 1 Tim.3:1-2 and Titus 1:5-6). Because it is God who places men into the pastoral office, through the congregation, only God, through the congregation, can properly remove a man from the pastoral office. Pastors are forgiven sinners, as are all baptized children of God. Thus, we do not expect perfection of our pastors, any more than pastors would expect congregations to be perfect. The awesome forgiveness of Jesus Christ sustains us all. A "hire and fire" attitude toward our pastors must not enter into our thinking. Removing a man from the pastoral office must be based only on clear, Biblical, criteria; namely, persistent adherence to false doctrine, a scandalous life, or willful neglect of duty.

What are the duties and commitments of pastors?

Our pastors preach, catechize, administer the Sacraments, hear confession from penitent sinners, and comfort the sick. The church knows that even the most faithful pastor can never do enough of these things, but the church also knows these are the precious duties our pastors are given to do. We must never allow other things to take priority over these key pastoral duties and activities. With the help of God, our pastors have the responsibility to speak the truth in love, but this duty must be understood correctly. Our pastors are not "people pleasers," watering down the truths of God's Word. Pastors pledge themselves unconditionally and without qualification, to the Lutheran Confessions as contained in the Book of Concord of 1580, as a true and faithful exposition of the Word of God. This strong doctrinal commitment safeguards the teaching of the truth of the Word of God in the congregation. Also, It protects the pastor from unjust criticism when he stands up for the truths of God's Word. By means of this strong doctrinal foundation, both pastor and people are able to evaluate their relationship to one another and the work of the congregation.

How do we support our pastors?

The most important way we support our pastors is through our prayers, asking the Lord of the Church to give our pastors wisdom, strength, courage and peace, asking Him to bless our pastors' ministry among us and to work powerfully through their proclamation of the Word and administration of the Sacraments. Our children should be taught each night to remember their pastor in their prayers.

The members of our congregations assist their pastor as they encourage and support him in the ministry entrusted to him. They volunteer their time, by serving in a variety of ways in the parish, and give of their treasures. The pastor is not a "hired hand," who is to do all the work of the congregation. Telling the good news of the forgiveness of sins in Jesus, in many different situations and opportunities in life, is a task and duty given to all Christians, not only pastors (Matt.28:19-20; 1 Peter 2:9; 1 Peter 3:15). God's Word also has these things to say about how we are to support our pastors. 1 Cor.9:14: "The Lord has commanded that those who preach the gospel should receive their living from the gospel." Gal.6:6-7: "Anyone who receives instruction in the word must share all good things with his instructor. Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows."

1 Thess.5:12-13: "Now we ask you, brothers, to respect those who work hard among you, who are over you in the Lord and who admonish you. Hold them in the highest regard in love because of their work. Live in peace with each other." Heb. 13:17: "Obey your leaders and submit to their authority. They keep watch over you as men who must give an account. Obey them so that their work will be a joy, not a burden, for that would be of no advantage to you." What a blessing pastors have been to God's people down through the ages! May God continue to bless the church mightily through His gift of pastors.
